WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD SIGNAL STATION, September 1, 10 p. m.—The weather is clear; wind, light, north; schr. Ka moi bound in.

The Bennington is coaling.
 Warrimoo from the Colonies tomorrow.

The Kaala and the Ka Moi came in late yesterday.

The Peru got away at about 10:15 a. m. yesterday for China and Japan.

The bark Mohican will sail for San Francisco today with a full cargo of sugar.

The British brig Darpa is said to be the only full-rigged brig, now afloat, under the Canadian flag.

The J. A. Cummins came in from Oahu ports with a small cargo of rice yesterday morning, and will sail on her usual route today.

H. B. M.'s S. Algeria is expected to arrive at Victoria, B. C., shortly to make a survey between that port and Honolulu for the proposed British cable.

Captain Nissen, formerly of the derelict Rosalie, will go to the Klondyke in the spring. He is waiting in Honolulu to settle up his affairs in connection with the Rosalie.

A recent report that the ship Iroquois, from Honolulu to New York, was erroneous. She called at the Island of Aitutaki only to exchange provisions with the natives there.

The four-masted barkentine Echo, Charles E. Foye master, arrived off port yesterday morning, on her way from Chemainus to Tientsin, with a cargo of lumber. She was 20 days out, and called in at this port to leave mail and procure a supply of medicine.

The American barkentine Amelia, E. F. Willer master, arrived in port yesterday morning, 26 days from Seattle, Wash., with a cargo of lumber for Allen & Robinson. She experienced calm, light and southerly winds throughout the trip. The Amelia is alongside Allen & Robinson's lumber wharf.

Perforated Sails.

The theory of Captain Bassalo has aroused some curiosity in this country among those who are interested in sailing vessels. The Macdiarmid, a full-rigged Italian ship, of 1,559 tons, recently arrived at Sydney with her sails perforated in accordance with Captain Bassalo's system and her performances at sea have greatly pleased her commander, Captain Criscuolo. There are two holes in each square sail, diminishing from a diameter of 2 feet in the lower sails or courses to about 7 inches in the royals or topmast sails—the fore and aft sails, jibs, staysails and spanker have but one hole each. Captain Criscuolo states that when sailing fairly free on a light breeze and increased speed obtainable by his vessel is quite two knots per hour, while with a strong wind it is not quite so much. Running before a wind, if the holes do no good they can certainly do no harm, as the wind escaping from one sail must, of necessity, strike the sail immediately ahead. Captain Bassalo's theory is that the wind, after having done its work on the ordinary sail, forms an elastic cushion in the belly, and this causes a large amount of wind to be thrown back broken, and consequently lost, and he considers that his invention permits of the vessel obtaining full benefit of whatever winds she may get.—London Shipping World.
